CHALLENGES

- To train new hires and onboard them as SOC analysts, Security Engineers, and IAM analysts.
- Ad-hoc upskilling requirement with large batch sizes requiring best training outcomes.

SOLUTIONS

- The trainer took part in a scoping call with the client and then designed a customized table of contents for the client, including tool-based demo videos.
- The customised content specific to each new hire role was then delivered via virtual training
- A revision class was held to provide post-training support
- We provided weekend courses to best suit the availability of the students and remained flexible about the training delivery timings.
